LU YUNG-HSIANG HERE TO MAKE STAND AGAINST CHI

SUBJUGATION OF CHANG S ORDERED BY PEKING; WU GIVEN HIGH COMMAND

Crimes' Of Fengtien Are Reviewed In Presidential Mandate Directing Chihli Armies To Suppress Mukden; Chang's Airplanes Drop Bombs On Shanhaikuan But No Damage Is Done

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Sept. 18.—A Presidential mandate was issued this morning ordering the subjugation of Marshal Chang Tso-lin and the suppression of the Fengtien revolt.

The mandate quotes petitions from Marshal Wu Pei-fu and Marshal Wang Chen-ping saying that Fengtien troops have mobilised and have moved westward along various routes. "A Fengtien rebellion is thus apparent. Mukden has long plotted against the Government. Fengtien troops have destroyed the railway at Wanpaotun, while at Chaoyang they fired the first shots in the war between Chihli and Mukden, subsequently throwing pontoons across the Taling river. Two Fengtien brigades then attacked Chaoyang, which compelled the Chihli troops to take measures for defence.

"In recent years the State has been confronted by growing difficulties. The people are tired of disorder. Since my assumption of office my aim has been to secure permanent peace, but Lu Yung-hsiang broke the peace. The punitive mandate against him was intended to bring an end to the rebellion in the southeast. The three Manchurian provinces constitute the northern rampart of China. In 1922 Chang Tso-lin's armed against the Government and was quickly defeated, after which the Government hoped that he would repent, but on the contrary he proves that his ambition is not abated. It now appears that Chang is taking advantage of the state of war in the southeast again to disturb the country. His circular telegram shows that he has perfected his plans to disturb the national peace. The Government cannot suffer this state of affairs to continue and is obliged to utilise the national resources to suppress Chang Tso-lin.

"The Commander-in-Chief and Vice Commander-in-Chief are hereby instructed to suppress the Fengtien rebellion. In the areas which Government troops occupy or pass through the lives and property of Chinese and foreigners must be efficiently protected. If the Fengtien troops surrender they will not be punished.

"Marshal Wu Pei-fu is hereby appointed Commander-in-Chief of the forces engaged in the suppression of the rebels and Marshal Wang Chen-ping Vice-Commander-in-Chief, and concurrently, Base Commandant. General Peng Show-shan is appointed Commandant of the First (Eastern) Army; General Wang Hua-ching Commandant of the Second (Northern) Army, and Marshal Feng Yu-hsiang Commandant of the Third Army" (which is apparently intended to reinforce either front). "General Chang Fu-lai is appointed Commandant of Reinforcements; Admiral Wen Shou-teh Commander-in-Chief of the Navy and General Chen Shih-chi Commandant of Shantung and Chihli Coast Defence."

An official bulletin says that the Fengtien forces are entrenching at Chaoyangsu near Chaoyang. Marshal Chang has ordered Heilungkiang and Kirin provinces to send two brigades to Jehol via Tannanfu (?).

Fengtien aeroplanes dropped eight bombs on Shanhaikuan at 8:30 this morning. No damage was done.

Mukden, Sept. 14.—Marshal Chang Tso-lin has opened the headquarters of his Army in part of his Yamen at Mukden, dividing it into the six departments of War, Martial Law, Medicine, Etape, Telegraphs and Strategy. The headquarters is staffed with 15 staff officers and over 20 adjutants, in addition to a number of advisers.

The headquarters may be shifted to Hsinmintun or even as far west as Chinchow, according to the progress of events.

On the line of Chinchow on the Mukden-Shanhaikwan Line, a state of siege prevails. Commandeering of carts has been opened, and already 600 carts have been requisitioned.

On the road from Tiehling to Mukden, soldiers with baggage and munitions are wending their

BRITISH POLICY IN CHINA DRAWS IRE OF RUSSELL

Fighting Near Shanghai Is Of Little Importance, He Says

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 17.—"The fighting going on in the neighborhood of Shanghai is of little importance," asserts Mr. Bertrand Russell in an article in the New Leader in which he attacks the British policy in China. He declares that the rivalries among the Chinese warlords—whom all decent Chinese despise—give excuses for interference in Chinese affairs by the Powers and for the extorting of concessions in return for support. The only exception to the rule that the warlords are merely ambitious brigands, Mr. Russell affirms, is Dr. Sun Yat-sen, to whom the writer pays a warm tribute as the pioneer of Republicanism in China and the proletariat's friend.

After commenting that the restoration of Weihaiwei to China is long overdue, Mr. Russell says that he does not think that Labor's policy will ever be adequately carried out until a certain number of men sympathising with it are placed in important official posts both at the Foreign Office and in the Diplomatic service. In conclusion Mr. Russell declares that, unless a special effort is made to check the information derived from British banks, merchants and officials, the British Government are bound to serve the interests of capitalism in China.

OPPOSITION IN DRIVE AGAINST SOVIET TREATY

Meetings Of Trade Bodies Denounce Agreement With Russ

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 18.—Influential opposition is being mobilised against ratification of the Anglo-Russian treaties. Meetings of the Association of British Chambers of Commerce, presided over by Mr. Stanley Machin, and the Federation of British Industry, at which Sir Eric Geddes presided, have issued statements of strong denunciation, which condemn the Treaties as being opposed to the best interests of the country and its trade. Mr. Neville Chamberlain, speaking at Birmingham, similarly sharply criticised the Treaty.

On the contrary, Mr. J. R. Clynes, speaking at Manchester declared that the campaign against the loan was solely inspired by political hostility to the present Russian Government. He declared that the Labor Party had repeatedly recorded its detestation of the indefensible deeds of Russia. It had repudiated the Russian methods of Soviet rule, and had refused any kind of union with the Bolshevists, but the Labor Party wanted to hasten the peace of the world, and improve British trade.

Egyptian Frontier Situation Serious, Belief Of Cairo

(Reuter's Service)

Cairo, Sept. 17.—In spite of the semi-official denial from Rome the Egyptian press declares that the situation on the frontier has developed to a point justifying uneasiness. The Government last night requested the Under-Secretary of State for War to inform the former Ministers Fathy Pasha and Azmy Pasha of the developments and to ask them to come to Alexandria immediately for consultation.

Fathy Pasha and Azmy Pasha were presidents of commissions sent to the western frontier to confer with the Italian military delegation with regard to the delimitation of the frontier during the Sarwat (?) and Ibrahim regimes.

(Reuter's Service)

Alexandria, Sept. 17.—The Government has issued a reassuring communique deprecating the alarmist press reports with regard to Italian action on the Western frontier and accepting the repeated Italian assurances that Italy does not intend to occupy Jarabub.

Full Defence Forces Of Settlement Are Mobilised As Tupan Lu Comes Here

Shanghai Volunteer Corps And Police Reserves Are Called Out And Held In Readiness; Territory In Vicinity Of Settlements Is Orderly

The full defense strength of the International Settlement was called out last night and assigned to posts following the first reports that Tupan Lu Yung-hsiang of Chekiang had abandoned Hangchow and was on his way to Shanghai.

Reports of Lu's abandonment of his capital reached authorities in charge of the defense of the Settlement during the late afternoon. As soon as substantial confirmation could be obtained, orders were issued for the calling out of the police reserves and the mobilization of the full strength of the Shanghai Volunteer Corps at 10 p.m.

Simultaneously, extra details of police were transferred from the Central station and other stations to the districts along the borders of the Settlement, particularly West Hongkew and Bubbling Well, in order to assist in patrolling the Settlement borders.

Officers in charge of the foreign naval units were also informed so as to have their men, who have been on patrol duty ashore for the past ten days, in readiness to maintain the neutrality of the Settlement.

The mobilisation of the full strength of the Volunteer Corps was carried out expeditiously and without incident. Since Sunday morning a skeleton organisation has been maintained with five men on duty from each company, and the mobilisation of the full corps was promptly handled in accordance with the prearranged plan.

The Light Horse and the American Troop, following mobilisation at the Race Course, went out on patrol duty in the Western Districts.

It was understood that the entire corps would be held in readiness through the night.

No disturbances were reported in or near the Settlement up to the hour of midnight. As late as 8 o'clock last night, the Chekiang troops appeared to be holding their own at Liuho, and there was no sign of disorder along the Liuho Road.

LEYLAND LINER HITS ROCKS ON COAST OF ERIN

Passengers And Crew Saved But Ship Is Now Total Wreck

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 17.—The Leyland liner Asian, from New Orleans to Liverpool with a cargo of cotton, went ashore on Stag Rocks, County Cork, this morning.

The destroyer Seawolf and the steamer San Quirino rushed to the assistance of the liner. They found the ship breaking up, with no sign of life on board.

Subsequently the Seawolf picked up the Asian's two boats with the officers and crew and the passengers and proceeded to Bantry. One fireman died.

The Asian is a total wreck. The passengers and crew, numbering 75, including two children, have been safely landed at Bantry.

DR. SUN MAKES ALLIANCE WITH YUNNAN LEADER

Negotiations For Compromise With Chen Are Also Proceeding

(Eastern News Agency)

Canton, Sept. 17.—An offensive and defensive secret alliance having been concluded between Dr. Sun and General Tang Chi-yao of Yunnan, Dr. Sun, acting on the decision of the joint administrative and military conference, has wired to General Tang, appointing him Vice Generalissimo and asking him to join the expeditionary forces against the Chihli faction.

Mr. Chih-hui, who, in co-operation with Mr. Tan Mo-shin, has been working to bring about compromise between Dr. Sun and General Chen Chiung-ming, returned here the night before last and yesterday morning proceeded to Shaokwan to report to Dr. Sun about the result of his negotiations with General Chen. It is observed, in this connection, that it will take some time before any peace agreement can be arrived at between Dr. Sun and General Chen, for the reason that while General Chen appears to be demanding from Dr. Sun the withdrawal of the allied troops from the district of the East River, General Lin Hu and some other military leaders belonging to General Chen's faction are apparently taking exception to the

NAVY CHIEF IS RECALLED FROM CAMPAIGN TOUR

Secretary Wilbur Summoned From Pacific Coast To White House

(Reuter's American Service)

Washington, Sept. 17.—Mr. C. D. Wilbur, Secretary of the Navy, has been suddenly recalled from the Pacific Coast, where he has been campaigning on behalf of the President. The reasons for the recall are not explained, though it has been indicated that it was dictated by Budget matters. These semi-official explanations are ridiculed in some sources, which claim that Mr. Wilbur has been recalled because of inopportune speeches, in which he attacked the Japanese and suggested a strong Navy for defensive purposes on the Pacific. Later, the White House officially denied that the President had heard any criticism of Mr. Wilbur's speeches, and it was added that the President sent for the Secretary solely to consult him with regard to matters of domestic concern relating to the Navy.

Tientsin Faced By Coal Shortage As Train Service Halts

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tientsin, September 18.—With the stoppage of trains Tientsin will soon be faced with a shortage of coal. The serious and worst aspect is that the Haiho Conservancy Board and the shipping lines will soon be unable to obtain bunkering. It is believed that they will have to cease dredging at Taku Bar with the result that the river will be silted up preventing the entrance of steamers.

Hitch Reported In Russo-Jap Parley

Peking, Sept. 18.—A new hitch in the Russo-Japanese parley is reported through the renewed demand for concessions by Japanese, but this is not considered serious.

PEACE PLAN IS AS YET IN ITS EARLY STAGES

Points Of Differences Between Britain And France Must Still Be Settled

(Reuter's Service)

Geneva, Sept. 17.—It must be emphasised that the peace protocol as regards the application of penalties for breaches of the Covenant of the League of Nations, the terms of which have unofficially leaked out, was only the first draft prepared by Dr. Benes with the object of conciliating the British and French views as regards penalties to enforce a decision of the Council of the League.

The matter is still in its earliest stage and there are points of difference which still remain to be settled. The British, for example, consider that the decision of the Council dealing with the infraction of the covenant should be unanimous, while the French consider a majority vote sufficient. The British emphasised that Britain was not likely to accept engagements to place all her forces at the disposal of the League of Nations.

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Geneva, Sept. 17.—The Council of the League of Nations under the presidency of M. Hymans (Belgium) considered the financial constitution of Austria. On the proposal of M. Salandra the Council adopted a resolution presented by the Austrian Committee approving of the agreement come to between the Austrian Government and the League of Nations, in regard to balancing the budget.

The representatives of France, Great Britain, Czechoslovakia and Spain successively expressed satisfaction at the agreement made with the Austrian Government, and expressed the hope that the progress of the reforms and the economic situation of Austria will permit the Austrian Government to fulfil the conditions of the agreement in the shortest possible time.

(Reuter's Service)

Geneva, Sept. 17.—Dr. Benes, in a statement to journalists on the Peace Protocol, says that an agreement has been reached with regard to penalties and how they should come into operation and to what degree.

The majority of the penalties are as provided in the Covenant. The political independence of the aggressor State is not to be tampered with, but such State will have to pay the cost of war and the preparations therefor.

The holding of a conference is foreshadowed as regards disarmament.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 17.—The discussions at Geneva as regards the British obligations in the enforcement of arbitral awards has been given particular prominence by French newspapers, most of which confidently assume that Britain will undertake to co-operate in imposing sanctions on any aggressor not merely with her fleet but with her air forces.

From inquiries in London, however, there is reason to believe that the people who count on the British Fleet being placed at the disposal of the League of Nations are likely to be very much disillusioned. The question has certainly been discussed but it is emphasised that no definite and far-reaching proposal like that recorded in the French press has been either advanced or accepted. It is always possible, however, that the League of Nations, in the event of a dispute, might ask Britain to co-operate, by means of her fleet, in enforcing an economic blockade, but this is a very different matter from what has been suggested in certain interested quarters.

CHEKIANG CHIEF QUITS CAPITAL; DEAL MADE TO SAVE PROVINCE FROM WAR

Brings Family And Loyal Troops To Lunghua And Asserts That He Wants To Leave Province To The Rule Of Chekiang Men; Chekiang Collapse Apparent

General Lu Yung-hsiang, Tupan of Chekiang and main figure in the Kiangsu-Chekiang warfare, arrived in Shanghai last evening shortly after 7 o'clock. He was accompanied by members of his family, including his wife, three young sons and one grandson, General Chang Tsai-yang, Civil Governor of Chekiang; General Fan Yu-lin, Chief of Staff; General Ma Hung-li Chief of the Chekiang Gendarmes and Mr. Tu Mei-shu, Finance commissioner of Chekiang.

One battalion of Gendarmes and another of bodyguards accompanied General Lu as his guards. The special train pulled in at the Hsin Lunghua station shortly after 7 o'clock and the party was motored to the Lunghua Arsenal where they will make their headquarters. General Lu declared to the officials that he has given up Chekiang to save the province from the atrocities of war and to make his stand here against Kiangsu in order to be more close to the fighting men at the front.

General Lu, when he declared independence from the Peking Government two years ago, made an open declaration that in case of fighting against Chihli, he would do it on Kiangsu territory. Yesterday's act was merely to carry out his promise, he said to a correspondent who interviewed him shortly after his arrival.

General Lu's departure from Hangchow will eliminate fighting on the Chekiang-Fukien and Chekiang-Anhwei borders. According to arrangements made by certain Chekiang military officers with the provincial authorities in Fukien and Anhwei, it is understood.

Before leaving Hangchow, Mr. Hsia Chao, Chief of the Constabulary at Chekiang, was appointed civil governor, succeeding Chang Tsai-yang and Brigadier-General Chow Feng-chi, one of Chang's lieutenant, was authorised to maintain peace and order of Hangchow.

The battalions brought down from the Chekiang capital are now stationed in Woosung and Lunghua.

General Chang Tsai-yang, who has been a personal friend of General Lu and himself a Chekiang man, will probably succeed Lu as the military head of the province, although reports have it that General Sun Chuan-fang of Fukien, whose penetration into the province was unopposed by Chekiang forces on the border, may assume supreme command of the military in Chekiang. One report last night stated that he was expected in Hangchow today or tomorrow. But in view of the long distance, it does not seem quite probable. Chang, on the other hand, maintains representatives at Peking, who have already effected an understanding with the Chihli party. It will be remembered that several days ago a Reuters message had actually asserted that his forces had declared independence from Lu.

General Pan Kuo-kan, in command of the first division of Chekiang's forces, is reported to have concluded the deal with Sun Chuan-fang, whereby the latter will march into Hangchow without bloodshed provided Gen. Lu would do his fighting outside of Chekiang territory.

General Lu's adherents here last night claimed that he still controls the Shanghai-Hangchow Railway and would relax the hold down as far as Kashing when General Sun arrives in Hangchow, since the latter place forms such an important barrier against the Kiangsu forces.

While the departure of General Lu from Hangchow must have caused some commotion in the Chekiang capital and among the soldiery on the various fronts, it was pointed out by Chekiang adherents last night that it should not weaken the morale of the fighting men at all, since General Lu was simply carrying out his obligation and that fact that he is closer to the fighting zone should show that he wanted to be personally in touch with the military operation in Liuho and Huangtu.

General Lu's own forces, belonging to the tenth division of the national army, are already in Woosung, Shanghai and serving on the Liuho and Huangtu fronts. These together with General Ho Feng-lin's sixth mixed brigade and the Fukien veterans under Chwang Tse-ping and Yang Hu-chao, the local military authorities believe, should form a sufficient unit to make a strong stand in Shanghai-Sunkiang circuit.

In consequence of the apparent collapse of the Chekiang cause, wild rumors were afloat in the settlement last night. Liuho was reported lost. Firing was heard on the roof of a local cafe. Lu was said to be a refugee at the was said to be a refugees at the

PEKING LEAVES NEUTRALITY UP TO THE POWERS

Make Lu Quit Arsenal And Woosung Forts; Says Reply Note

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, Sept. 17.—In connection with the demand made conjointly by the British, American, Japanese, French, and Italian ministers for the neutrality of Shanghai and the Whangpoo River, the Waichiaopu yesterday addressed a note to the said five ministers, stating to the effect that the Chinese Government takes no objection to the establishment of the neutral zone referred to, provided the foreign ministers concerned make the Chekiang military authorities fulfil the following conditions by the 19th instant:

"The disarmament of the Woosung Forts as well as the Chinese warships on the Whangpoo River, the withdrawal of the Chekiang troops from the specified neutral zone, the closing of the Kiangsu Arsenal and the Magazine, and the inhibition of military actions in any form on the part of the Chekiang troops within the neutral zone in question."

It is understood that the Ministers of the five Powers, as a result of their meeting today, have replied to the Waichiaopu to the following effect:

"While the conclusion of an agreement for the establishment of the neutral zone is most desirable, such conditions as suggested by the Waichiaopu should, in the opinion of the ministers of the five Powers, be agreed upon only between the belligerent parties concerned and not be interfered with by any outsiders. Accordingly, the Powers concerned are determined not to alter their fixed policy of adopting suitable measures for the prevention of war on the Whangpoo River as well as for the safety of navigation of foreign vessels between the Port of Shanghai and Woosung, even if they failed to conclude an agreement with the Peking Government on the subject of neutrality."

Chekiang Holds Liuho; Truck Loads Of Rifles Sent Back To Shanghai

BY D. J. LEWIS

Liuho, Sept. 18, 9 p.m.—Chekiang troops are still in possession of the town of Liuho. No evidence anywhere along the road of any retreat was apparent. Heavy rifle and shell firing from 8 p.m. until leaving at 9 p.m. was plainly heard all along the road. Kiangsu attacked the Chekiang forces at 2 p.m. this afternoon but were driven off with small losses. Kiangsu forces are extending their right wing, and brought up two large guns and are making a strong effort to shell the Shanghai road, thus cutting off the communications of the Chekiang forces at Liuho with Shanghai and the arsenal. The three Chekiang guns which were yesterday placed on the Liuho road three li outside of the town have been removed to another position. In the fighting this afternoon Kiangsu forces drove back the Chekiang line some distance but Chekiang counter-attacked and drove back Kiangsu. It is believed that the Kiangsu forces are now entrenched about a half li nearer the Chekiang line than on the proceeding day.

General Yang Hao Tsao spent the night of September 17 in Liuho returning to Shanghai this morning. It is still rumoured in Liuho that troops sent down by Chang Tso-lin are being rushed to the Liuho front.

Several motor trucks and passenger cars proceeding to Liuho empty were encountered on the road.

Five truck loads of rifles were passed being sent to Shanghai.

The total length of the Chekiang front line on the Liuho front is 15 li.

A foreigner arriving today by river steamer from Nanking reported that five large and four small units of the Kiangsu naval forces together with one transport was noticed anchored off Liuho and that when passing Woosung two large ships apparently units of the Chekiang naval forces were noticed.

For the first time since reporting the situation on the Liuho front admission to the town of Liuho itself was denied to foreign correspondents, THE CHINA PRESS Correspondent being able to get only within three li of Liuho itself.

residence of the one of the prominent foreigners on Bubbling Well Road.

Between forty and fifty persons connected with Lu's household arrived on a special train at 3:30 yesterday from Hangchow with a large quantity of luggage. Crowds of other persons apparently in the know were on the same train, a special to the North station. Another special arriving at about the same time went to Lunghua.

In the evening, the express from Hangchow due at 7:30 arrived at 12:30, after delaying at Lunghua to unload about two hundred people and a large quantity of baggage. Passengers reported Hangchow was quiet when they left there at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The arrivals from Hangchow and vicinity yesterday totalled more than 1,500.

Twenty cases of field gun ammunition were brought down from Nanziang last night and placed in a station godown. With them were several small boxes of pistol ammunition. Earlier in the day, twenty cases of ammunition had been sent from Nanziang to Lunghua and twenty from Nanziang to Liuho.

About forty wounded men were brought to Shanghai from Woosung yesterday after five days of suffering. They had had two days before they were brought down from the front and three in a hospital at Woosung not equipped to care for their serious injuries, with the result that the first dressings were still on the wounds.

"Forward," shouted one delirious chap, as he rolled about on the concrete platform, "come on, boys, forward, forward."

Little firing was reported from the Huangtu front, although the Chekiang infantry were said to have advanced a short distance north and south of the railway in the morning and to have pushed forward in the early evening between the two small salients.

At the arsenal at Lunghwa at an early hour this morning all was peaceful and gave no evidence of the stirring happenings in Hangchow and elsewhere in the Kiangsu-Chekiang war situation. THE CHINA PRESS correspondent proceeding to the Lunghwa yamen was stopped several times by Chekiang guards and his pass demanded but he was permitted to proceed. Speculation had it early this morning that General Lu's resistance on the Huangtu and Liuho fronts might collapse during the day and that General Lu from his position at the arsenal may ask the Powers here to mediate and prevent actual fighting in the vicinity of the arsenal.

The arrival of several cars of munitions at the Shanghai North Station late last night from the Huangtu front and also the arrival of several truck-loads of rifles from the Liuho front and a string of empty trucks proceeding in the direction of Liuho from Shanghai apparently for the purpose of bringing munitions back to Shanghai indicate the possibility of a complete collapse of Chekiang or an attempt to make a last stand at the arsenal and at Woosung.

Both Dr. W. S. New, field director of the Red Cross, and Dr. J. C. MacCracken, head of St. Luke's Hospital, last night denied the report in the press that "dum-dum" bullets were found in the wounded bodies.

Twenty-three stricken men were brought back from the Liuho and Huangtu fronts yesterday. The 15 soldiers who were seriously injured had to be operated upon by the doctors of the Red Cross General Hospital on Avenue Haig.

RED CROSS WORK FOR KIANGSU FORCES

Mr. T. T. Zee of Shanghai College, General Manager for the first unit of Chinese Red Cross Corps stationed at Quinsan returned Wednesday and made a very detailed report to Dr. W. S. New, the field director of the entire Red Cross Corps regarding the work on the other side. There are two units sent by the Central Office: one at Quinsan and the other at Changchow.

Many other units are formed under the auspices of the local chapters such as Soochow and Wusih. The first unit at Quinsan is doing all the work of receiving the wounded and giving the general first aid work and then forwarding them to Soochow and Changchow as there is no big hospital at Quinsan. Tai-chong and Anting are all under the care of the first unit. A steam launch is used for transporting wounded to Quinsan and then to Soochow, while the wounded from Anting are directly forwarded to Changchow by rail.

It is estimated that there are at least two thousand wounded among the Kiangsu forces. The hospitals at Soochow, reported By Dr. Wilkinson to accommodate 800, are full. Changchow is said to have 400 while the rest are distributed among their own military hospitals. Order is given from Marshal Chi that no wounded should be sent to Nanking in order not to disturb the feeling of the people, so the hospitals at Soochow and Changchow are facing great difficulties.

Three doctors and three nurses with four boxes of medicine left Shanghai last night by s.s. Nanyang Maru for Changchow and Quinsan. Beside the wounded both the first and second units are facing the great difficulty in fighting against the malaria and dysentry which is very common among the soldiers, due to the uneven weather and the continuous rain during the last week.

There are many bodies floating in the stream along Tai-chong and the odour is certainly very offensive. Different local chapters are organising burial parties to do this work and hundreds of dead bodies are reported to be buried near Quinsan and Tai-chong.

Yihsing and Chanhsing are sending many wounded to Changchow and Dr. Cho, the leader of the second unit at Changchow, returned yesterday asking for additional help.

Peking, Sept. 14.—Marshal Chi Hsieh-yuan, Tuchun of Kiangsu, has proposed to establish a commissary office at Hankow and has approached Tuchun Hsiao Yao-nan of Hupeh for concurrence.

This step is considered necessary by Tuchun Chi, in view of the fact that the war with Chekiang is likely to be prolonged and that it is important to get enough supplies of all kinds for the use at the front.

Inasmuch as Shanghai is in the hands of the Chekiang forces, Tuchun Chi proposes now to station special officers at Hankow to make the necessary purchases, and asks General Hsiao Yao-nan to place at his disposal two steamers for the purpose of transportation from Hankow to Nanking by water. As a treaty port, it is deemed easier to make purchases at Hankow than elsewhere.

At the request of Tuchun Chi Hsieh-yuan, General Cheng Tze-chi, the Military Tuli of Shangtung, has agreed to despatch one brigade to Kiangsu as reinforcement. General Chang Yung-pei, the Defense Commissioner of Shantung, is instructed to proceed with his forces to Hsuchow of Kiangsu. There is every indication that the Kiangsu forces under the command of Tuchun Chi Hsieh-yuan are very much depleted.

(China Press Correspondence)

Hankow, Sept. 12.—The first detachment of troops under Wu Pei-fu's command to join the Kiangsu-Chekiang war is the Hupeh Fourth Mixed Brigade under Liu Tso-lung, who has despatched his troops toward Pukow to reinforce the defence of Nanking forces. Brigadier-General Liu's troops are among the veteran fighters of Wu Pei-fu during the war with Hunan in 1920. Since that war, they have been under the direct control of Marshal Hsiao Yao-nan of Wuchang.

Other troops under Wu Pei-fu that are on the move are the 14th Division under General Chin Yun-ao at Chengchow and the First Divsion of Shensi trooops are also stationed in Honan around Chengchow. Both Generals Chin and Hu are gathering their forces, and all available rolling-stock on the Peking-Hankow Railway is being commandeered to send the soldiers down to Hankow. It is reported they will temporarily be stationed in Kiangsu and Kiangsi provinces awaiting the development of the fighting near Shanghai.

The Hanyang Arsenal, also under Wu Pei-fu's control through Marshal Hsiao of Wuchan, has just received an urgent order for arms and ammunitions from General Chi Hsieh-yuan of Nanking. The requisition includes 2,000,000 rounds of ammunitions, 3,000 rifles, 500 machine guns, 12 field guns, and 20,000 shells. Marshal Hsiao has asked the Hanyang Director to fill the order without delay.

way southward, the processions being extended for miles with only short breaches.

The Mukden Army is to be divided into 6 echelons, in order to face the Chihli Army.

Gen. Chu Ching-lan late in command of the Chinese Eastern Railway Guard, Harbin, has been invested with the command of the Army at the front.

The Mukden Air Office has reconstructed the petrol tank. The oil receptacles for the airplanes are being altered, so as to make the supply of oil adequate for distance flights.

The stocks of petrol now in hand are said to be 4,000 cases.

Strict censorship is being enforced on all telegrams and mails for and from beyond Shanhaikwan, that is, points in Chihli Province. Undesirable passages are either struck off or the messages containing them are often detained.

At points in the Walled City, the streets are nearly blocked with rows of carts, fully loaded with military stores. The streets are alive with hurrying soldiers.

At the Three Eastern Provincial Bank, the exchange rates for gold notes and Chinese large dollars are bulletined, but they decline to convert Mukden notes into either.

The [illegible] has been converted into a [illegible] Hospital, provided with hundreds of Western beds. The medical corps are being organised with all possible despatch.

By the extension of railway sidings, trains will be made to run up to the hospital shortly.

The Fifteenth Division of the Chihli Army, which has been shifted to Shanhaikwan from Lanchow, is making preparations to advance, with a view to taking up the offensive, according to news received at the Mukden Headquarters.

Shanghai Football Ass'n Lays Plans For Much Work In Coming Season Here

Private Playing Grounds; Expansion Of Leagues To Include Chinese Teams; Referees' Association; New Rules

With the obtaining of a private ground for the games of the Shanghai Football Association, the widening of the Association by the admission of Chinese teams, possible improvements in the makeup of the present League through a new rule regarding promotion, and the reorganisation of the old Referees' Association, association football in Shanghai enters upon a new phase of activity.

It is not exactly a new phase, but one that has been developing for year after year, and has resulted in such successful growth and expansion of the game here that arrangements on a wider scale now become necessary. One of the biggest steps is the obtaining of a playing field which the Association will have all to itself and under its own control during games, where it will be able to charge admission fees to cover expenses, and where it will be able to arrange matches with some of the excellent Chinese teams here, some of these teams will probably be seen in some of the Cup or League contests the coming season.

The Association at its annual meeting yesterday took up other questions, one being the revival of the old Referees' Association as mentioned, and the other being a rule to be added to the present regulations governing the League which it is expected will increase the First Division and somewhat equalize the second, this proviso being that the winning club in the Second Division may be elected to the First Division for the following season. At the discretion of the Association this promotion may be made compulsory, and it will in fact be followed in all cases except where the Club winning the Second League Shield is already represented in the First League.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The Association held its meeting at the Cathedral School, it being very well attended. In the absence of the President, Mr. Prentice, Mr. Grimshaw took the chair. He read a letter from Mr. Prentice expressing his regret at not being able to be present, this being due to trouble with his eyes.

The first thing on the agenda was the acceptance of the minutes of the annual general meeting of the Association held September 20, 1923, and also the minutes of the last meeting of the Full Council, held April 4, 1924. These were unanimously taken as read.

The report of the Honorary Secretary for the last season was then taken up, also the financial statement of the Honorary Treasurer, including both the general and the Interport account. All these were unanimously accepted.

Passing on the election of officers, Mr. Grimshaw proposed that Mr. Prentice, who had done so much for football here, be elected President for the coming season. Secretary Bridges seconded the motion, which was unanimously carried.

With regard to vice-presidents, it was announced that Mr. W. S. Campbell did not wish to stand for election again. Mr. Bridges proposed that Mr. Grimshaw be re-elected a vice-president, and Mr. Quayle proposed Brother Faust. Mr. Quayle was also proposed, but declined. Mr. Grinshaw and Brother Faust were elected vice-presidents.

Mr. Hughes proposed, Mr. Grimshaw seconding, that in view of Mr. Campbell's great services to the Shanghai Football Association he be made an honorary life member. This was unanimously carried.

In connection with the election of an Honorary Secretary, Mr. Grimshaw remarked upon the tremendous amount of work required from the Secretary of the Association. Mr. Bridges had said he was finished, but the Vice-President asked that he be urged to continue for another year at least, and that he be re-elected by acclamation. The assembly heartily agreed.

In consideration of the great amount of work to be done, it was proposed that an honorarium be paid to the Secretary. Mr. Bridges, however, declined this, and said he could not accept pay for his services. His work could be much lightened, however, if he received some real support from the various clubs. At the present time much delay is caused and his work much added to by the manner in which the secretaries of the various clubs neglected to respond to his notices and letters.

It was proposed that an assistant secretary be employed, on salary. Mr. Bridges said this was not necessary as a general thing, but a few times during the past season he had had to employ occasional help, and had paid for it out of his own pocket. He asked that the Association cover such accounts hereafter. This was unanimously agreed to.

With regard to the Honorary Treasurer, it was announced that Mr. Marshall was going home, and prefers that the Association elect another in his place. Mr. Hughes was proposed for the place, and unanimously elected.

The three Councillors of the Association next came up for election. Mr. Crookdake, Mr. Barnes, and Mr. Billings were proposed and elected.

PLAYING GROUNDS

On the question of providing a private playing ground for the Association, Mr. Bridges said he had taken this up with the directors of the Shanghai International Athletic Field last year. His last letter on the subject dealt with the question of a minimum charge, and the promoter of the Field had agreed that if a minimum charge could not be covered by the receipts from the crowd the Association could simply pay the actual costs of using the field, such as payment of the men on the grounds, etc. The minimum would be some twenty percent of the receipts. There would be a decided financial advantage, not only on account of being able to charge admission, which was extremely difficult when they tried it last year, but of being able to admit Chinese, thousands of whom would attend the matches, particularly when Chinese teams were playing.

Matches with Chinese teams, moreover were previously impossible, owing to these teams having been shut out from the fields heretofore used. With the Association's own field, however, it will be possible, and will permit of the Association teams accepting games with Chinese teams for the Skottowe or International Cup competitions. They could expect as many as seven or eight thousand Chinese to attend such games. The field was in a convenient location, on Rue Chapsal about five minutes from the Race Course. During games the grounds would be absolutely under the charge of the Association.

The meeting decided that the Council should go ahead with the arrangements for the grounds.

CHINESE TEAMS

Coming down to the question of admitting Chinese teams to the League or Cup competitions, Mr. Bridges pointed out that no revision of rules was necessary, as there was absolutely no discrimination against Chinese teams in the regulations of the Association. Any properly constituted team approved by the Association could be admitted. The only thing that had kept them out down to the present time was the ground upon which the Association's games had been played.

It was decided that Chinese teams should be admitted for either League or Cup competitions, at the discretion of the Committee, and that the matter be left to them.

Mr. Bridges also brought up the question of rules for the government the Inter-School Football League. This League had always been under the wing of the Association to some extent, and it was of much importance in view of the fact that the Association got many of its players from the League. Mr. Bridges had proposed to the schools some definite rules for this League, and had received their approval. Among other things, he favored making the limit for senior boys fifteen years, boys under that age to be counted juniors. The meeting approved Mr. Bridge's proposals.

Brother Faust suggested that Mr. Drake be given a vote of thanks for his excellent work in the Inter-School Football League. Mr. Bridges added that he would like to call attention to Mr. Drake's work in the arrangement of school games. The vote of thanks was unanimously carried.

ALTERATION IN RULES

A new resolution was brought forward by Mr. Leslie, and seconded by Mr. Hughes, that Association Rule No. 12, providing that in International Matches the qualifications be by birth, be deleted, and that qualification be by parentage. In cases where a player is born outside his parents' native country he may, with the approval of the Association, play for the country in which he was born. After considerable discussion, this was voted down, the old rule continuing to stand.

The second resolution, providing for the promotion of the winning club in the Second Division of the League to the First Division, was proposed by Mr. Hughes and seconded by Mr. Leslie. There was considerable discussion on this also, and it was finally adopted as proposed.

The last business was the question of referees. Mr. Jones proposed, being seconded by Mr. Bridges, that the old Referees' Association be revived. Mr. Bridges read a letter from Mr. Marshall, a veteran referee, saying he would very much like to see the old Association revived, and offering his services for the coming season. It was decided that a meeting be called of all referees in Shanghai, and the Association be reorganised. A vote of thanks was also passed for all the referees who had volunteered their services during the past season.

Davies Proves Quitter In Scrap At Carlton; Nevsky Draws With Battling Tigora

Historic Match Between Chinese Lads; Flores Licks Dublin Boy In Good Bout

The war which is reputed to be closing in on Shanghai was not much in evidence at the Carlton last night. There was a little scrap between two youngsters at the start, a comic act between two Chinese, a severe spanking of a visiting lad by a local Filipino, a wrestling contest between two big boys, and a brave attempt by one Taff Davies to see how quick he could induce the referee to count him out and let him get his money.

For genuine entertainment the match between the two Chinese, a historic encounter as being the first contest in the squared circle between two Celestials in Shanghai, was the star event of the evening. It was a bowling success, and if the money which Taff Davies got for doing his diving exhibition was divided between these youngsters it would have been at least earned. Ma Ching and Mah Jong demonstrate every punch in the fighting encyclopedia except a kayo, and added a few more which pay tribute to the inventive ability of the little-appreciated Chinese. The time when they stood back to back and swapped punches was probably the most enjoyable of the evening, and if this had been the windup everyone would have gone off feeling happy.

As it was, all the best stuff was towards the beginning. Tave Workman, a bantam from Dublin, put up a plucky fight against Flores, but he was hopelessly outclassed, and Felipe gave him a terrific beating, though he failed to knock him out. It went on for six rounds, and the white boy rallied again and again, and deserves every credit for his guts and tenacity. He was matched with a better fighter, was licked, stood up to it, and fought straight through to the finish.

In other words, Tave was just the reverse of Taff Davies, former featherweight champ of South Africa, kayo artist from England, etc., etc. Davies was a frost. A more utter fraud never came here with a rep. Davies had a rep, and it showed that several times in his life he had fought good fights, so the Association is not to blame for the contemptible exhibition Davies put up last night. He no sooner got into the ring than he began to try how soon he could lie down and get his money. He lay down five times in the first round, taking advantage of every time Volaire slapped him to go to the floor. Volaire handed him one or two good blows, but nothing of a kayo order, and the sailor simply did nose dives on his own most of the time. Anyway, the painful first round—painful for the crowd, the referee, and everybody except Davies, who spent his time lying on the floor all but begging Matty Smith, who refereed, to count him out and let him get his money—was finally over. In the second round Davies leaned on Volaire's fist once, fell down, got up again, leaned against Volaire's mitt again, lay down again, and this time declined to get up.

It is to be hoped that after an exhibition like this Davies gets no more bouts in the Far East. He double-crossed the Association, the crowd, and everybody. The Association was generous with him, which was certainly more than he deserved. Other Far Eastern papers please copy.

If Charlie Mack had turned up for the special event with Nevsky it might have been more interesting, but Mack was injured in training and Battling Tigora took his place. It was nearer to a wrestling match than a boxing exhibition, and was rather disappointing, both boys holding on to each other during a good bit of the fight, and Nevsky indulging in some football tackles which didn't gain him anything either in points or reputation. The Russian weighed in at 138 pounds, four pounds over Tigora. Matty Smith refereed.

The two lads started off pretty well, aggressive but careful, with not much clinching, but in the second round they began going into clinches again and again, Nevsky being just as guilty as Tigora, though he had no reason for it as he was getting a shade the best of the fighting. In the third the scrapping was a little better, and Nevsky landed some good punches in the clinches, which were still frequent. At the beginning of the fourth spasm Nevsky got in a series of punches which staggered the other boy for a few moments, but mugging started again, and Tigora later landed a few taps which somewhat evened up matters. The fifth was a bit more lively again, the boys mixing it up more and Nevsky landing a few times.

The last three rounds were better than those preceding. The boys did more scrapping, but continued to hold on, and did some infighting in, which Nevsky got rather the best of it. The Russian staggered Tigora once, but instead of following it up with one or two blows for a kayo went into a clinch again and lost his chance. In the seventh the boys stood up and swapped punches a couple of times. They clinched less, sliding around the ring instead, but in the eighth Nevsky went in with the obvious intention of finishing off the Filipino. He landed some good blows, but went into half-Nelsons again and failed to do any material damage, though he had rather the best of the fighting.

Nevsky had the best of the fight on the whole, though his clinching, and a couple of football tackles, brought him no credit. Half the time he apparently imagined he was wrestling. A draw decision was given. Messrs. King and Himrod were judges.

In the preliminary of four rounds Young Freddie got the decision over Georgie Xavier, brother of the other Xavier here. Georgie is a few stages below his brother as a fighter, though he may improve.

GARVEY PREACHES FAITH IN BLACK GOD FOR NEGROES

Makes Plea For A Free African Republic With A New Religion

New York, August 4.—The spreading of a new religion among the 400,000,000 negroes in the world and the taking over of Africa by the negro race and the establishment there of a politically independent African Republic were set forth yesterday by Marcus Garvey, President General of the Universal Negro Improvement Association, as the two cardinal points in its program.

Speaking at the opening session of what Garvey terms the Fourth Annual International Convention of Negro People of the World, in Liberty Hall, 120 West 138th Street, he outlined the negroes had prayed to a white god, and Christ and the angels in heaven are black and Satan and his imps are white. Garvey said that in the past the negroes had prayed to a white God, but that lynchings and burnings and discrimination against his race had increased.

"God tells us to worship a God in our own image," said he. "We are black, and to be in our image God must be black. Our people have been lynched and burned in the South because we have been worshiping a false god. But what can you expect when we have adopted the idolism of another race? We must create a god of our own and give this new religion to the negroes of the world.

"Let them burn and lynch us in Georgia and Mississippi. They may be sorry for it yet. A stranger came to Africa 300 or 400 years ago and grabbed the black man and took him 4,000 or 5,000 miles from home to a new world and put him in the cotton fields. We are willing to give 300 years for eternity for now we will return to Africa and restore the ancient glories of Alexandria and Timbuctoo and we will give negro salvation to the world in brotherhood.

SAYS NEGROES CAN FIGHT AND DIE

"The white and yellow men are crazy if they think we negroes have forgotten how to fight and die. We died nobly, gracefully and splendidly in the Revolution and in every other war of the American Republic, and yet we were lynched in the same uniforms that we wore on the fields of Flanders."

Garvey was enthusiastically cheered by the 2,500 negro men and women who crowded the hall where the convention sessions are to be held daily for the next month. He had discarded the brilliant uniform he wore on Friday when he reviewed forces of the African Republic. He wore white duck trousers and a brown sack coat and waistcoat.

"We are gathered here from all parts of the world," said Garvey, "not because it is a holiday or a picnic, or from any desire to give vent to our emotions, but because we are charged with a responsibility to our race to enter on the vast duty of empire building. We are here to redeem the 12,000,000 miles of our native land. Africa has become the coveted prize of the world, especially of bankrupt England, France, Germany and Italy. We are here to let them know we are coming—coming without any apology or compromise.

"When the white men were living in caves and were barbarous, we negroes gave them a civilisation they snatched away from us. We will rebuild a civilisation on the banks of the Nile which will never pass away until Gabriel blows his horn. Darwin and Huxley said we were monkeys, but we're all men now.

"We will let the white men have America and Europe, but we are going to have Africa. It we find a white god we are going to change him and have a black god, or we'll find Jim Crowism in heaven. We are not meeting here as rebels, nor are disloyal. We are not preaching race hatred, but the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man."

Garvey said the prejudice against the negro was not due to color, but to his lack of industrial and commercial initiative, and that if the negroes sought to improve their condition in these respects, there would be "no color line here in twenty-five or fifty years."

"Establish your Pennsylvania Railroad system in Africa and control billions there," he said, "and America and the whole world will come looking for you."

AFRICAN ORTHODOX BISHOP SPEAKS

Bishop George Alexander McGuire of the African Orthodox Catholic Chuch, who was ordained by the Syrian Orthodox Church, said that Christ, through Queen Victoria and Abraham Lincoln, had emancipated the negroes. "If the white man is going to impress on the children of my race that everything good is white," he said, "and that everything that is of the devil is black, then let us here at this convention begin to rewrite theology."

The audience applauded vehemently, as they did when Garvey, a moment later, announced that he intended to "question the philanthropy" of the Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

"When people put their hands in their pockets and give away something," he said, "you may be sure there is something they are after."

A telegram was sent to President Coolidge which read: "Will your Excellency please accept the best wishes of the 400,000,000 negroes of the world through us, their representatives, assembled in international convention? We mourn the loss of your son, but pray that you will be strengthened to carry on the great work of leading the American nation that now confronts you. We thank you and your race for the friendship you have shown that portion of our people that forms a part of the nation and hope that we may speedily arrive at some solution by which the two races may continue to live in peace with each other and become the guardians of liberty, human rights and real democracy."

To Ramsay MacDonald, British Prime Minister, a cable was sent praying "that you and your country will adopt a fair and honest attitude toward Africa and the negro race. The negro, like the Indian and the Irish, desires unfettered nationhood, and we hope that your Government will realise that the time for African colonial exploitation has come to an end and a new era of justice to men ushered in. We ask that you and your countrymen be fair and reasonable to the black race."

To Sir Eric Drummond, Secretary of the League of Nations, a cable was sent asking that the former German African colonies be turned over of the association "to be developed as independent negro nations." Other cables asking justice for the blacks were sent to Premier Herriot of France, Mussolini and Pope Pius. Cablegrams of greeting were dispatched to President Borno of Hayti, Mahatma Gandhi and the Empress Zurditu at Addis Ababa, Abyssinia.

BIG LOAN GRANTED HUNAN BY FAMINE RELIEF COMMISS'N

$40,000 To Flooded Areas For Purchase Of Seed Rice

Peking, Sept. 11.—The China International Famine Relief Commission has decided to grant a loan of $40,000 to the Hunan Committee of the Commission, the money in turn to be loaned out by the Committee to the districts most seriously affected by the floods, about twenty in number, for the purchase of seed rice.

The loans to the hsien are to be guaranteed by the Provincial Assembly, the Hunan Chamber of Commerce and the Public Property Custodians of the various districts. The latter are officials elected by the people as trustees for all public property, such as the endowments of temples, the old examination halls, etc. These endowments consist of fields and pawnshops for the most part, which properties thus become securities for the loans.

If this method of loan and guarantee works out satisfactorily, the scheme will be largely extended. The Hunan Committee has already asked for $200,000 on this basis.

The Commission has also appointed an international committee for the Metropolitan District. Mr. Yuin Pao-hui has consented to serve as chairman, Dr. W. C. Cormack as vice-chariman, and Mr. J. S. Burgess and Mr. Meng Hsi-yu as treasurers. The other members of the committee are E. T. Shaw of the American Board Mission, Father J. Mullins, Liu Hsi-Lin and Mr. Oyang Ying.

HEAVY RAINS IN HANGCHOW MENACE CROPS

August Dryness Is Followed By Literal Deluge In September

(China Press Correspondence)

Hangchow, Sept. 13.—A month ago we were crying out for "little drops of water," but all this month it has literally poured, day and night, and more than once we have had an average of an inch an hour rainfall. It is very bad for the heavy-eared rice crop which it is laying flat on the ground and making the poor farmers also hang their heads. If it does not stop, floods will soon be here and bring further distress upon the poor people.

A Red Cross Unit of 23, the first in the city to be organised and done entirely by the C. M. S. Hospital, left today for the Huchow front. They had tiffin at the Red Cross Headquarters, were photographed with the staff of the local branch, who, along with many friends, accompanied them to the railway station and gave them a hearty God-speed send-off.

The Hospital is prepared to treat all the most seriously wounded and is reserving 200 beds for casualties from the front.

It has already given cover to a few peely-wally "cold feet" refugees in some of its students' quarters.

No doubt the B. W. A. will remember the hospitals in the interior when it is flooded with Shanghai's generous supply of bandages, gauze, cotton wool, etc.,

Notes From Nanking

Nanking, Sept. 15.—The following is issued by the Intelligence Committee of Nanking.

The first local Y.M.C.A. Army service unit, headed by Mr. Phil. Gillett, composed of ten men in Y.M.C.A. uniform will leave tomorrow. Messrs. Paul Tsao, T. F. Chang, and A. Liu from the Y.M.C.A. staff and several men from the Seminary are in the first group. Direct work will be done with the soldiers at Quinsan, Soochow, Changchow and Nanking.

The following note was received from Mr. Frank Price, a member of the civilian relief committee written Sunday morning from Soochow.

"We have secured the Baptist Mission motor launch and another mission boat to go to Quinsan immediately. Train service to that point very uncertain.

"The Foreign community is cooperating to organise an American Red Cross here, help in work, and churches to take care of refugees we bring them back.

"Soochow missionaries are all staying to help. No Mission schools are open, all being used as hospitals. Dr. Young has performed 50 operations. Soochow has no connection with Shanghai except through Chinkiang and foreign food supplies are exhausted. The city is quiet but nervous.

"Please ask Marx to get other units organised and ready for call and wait further news here.

"Passengers on Sunday's Blue Express reported train loads of soldiers proceeding East from Tientsin on the Peking Mukden line.

"Passengers from Peking reported Saturday's Blue Express delayed on account of three aeroplanes on a train ahead being sent to Pukow for use by Kiangsu Forces.

"The Kiangsu Official communique for the 13th reports no change at the Liuho—Hwangtu front: Kiangsu claims 6000 enemy soldiers killed since the beginning of fighting on this sector."

March Of Troops Through Hangchow Distinctly Orderly

(China Press Correspondence)

Hangchow, Sept. 14.—There is not much transport of soldiers toward either front through Hangchow these days, and there are few signs of any kind to remind one of war. In fact the public is congratulating itself on the manner in which the whole conduct of military affairs in this section of the province has been carried out. There has been nothing but the strictest order and good conduct on the part of the soldiers.

In the recent transfer of troops under command of General Chen Yea-son, from the city and up the river points, to Changhsin, it was necessary for hundreds of them to pass through the city and on out to the foreign settlement at Kongzenchiao. Merchants report that that there was not a case of extortion by the men as they passed through nor a failure on their part to pay full price for every purchase they made from the shops.

Such a record as this is new in the history of local experience with war-time soldiery and has done much to increase General Lu Yung-hsiang's hold on the community. The merchants and public bodies generally are high in their praises also of the high plane on which the handling of labor has been carried out here. There has been some conscription, but it has been on a basis of fair remuneration for the men forced into service.

The Red Cross and church relief organisations are organising their own protection forces as a final resort in case of police inadequacy. The volunteers are to wear sashes or badges and carry clubs. Their main duties will be police work within the refugee camps.

Decreasing supplies of flour and the impossibility of adding to them are sending the price up, but so far as rice goes, the pre-war price is again prevailing and there seems no likelihood of any rise. New supplies are coming in without interruption. Wood is also at its usual full-time price.

Wusih Preparing To Resist Looters

(China Press Correspondence)

Wusih, Ku., Sept. 12.—Everything here is very quiet outwardly but the people are of course all very apprehensive. They all know that Wusih has the reputation of being a wealthy place and that it is due to be sacked if the opportunity offers as it will offer if General Chi is beaten on either front. The mission compounds have many applications from people who wish to take refuge in them if the city should be sacked. It has been arranged that women and children shall be received up to the capacity of the compounds.

The city has made some preparations towards resisting the entrance of routed soldiers and tufei. Sandbags have been prepared at all of the city gates and barricades have been prepared at all of the intersections of streets. There is also a "Merchants' Volunteers Corps" which was organised two or three years ago by a rich mill owner who is an ex-taotai. These men patrol the streets and make a show of force in order to reassure the people and discourage tufei and local bad characters. Several of the larger mills have placed wire netting around their premises arranged on a circuit from their own electric generators.

POSTAL CLERK, 23, GETS $2,000 FOR ROUTING BANDITS

Eugene Stack, Of E. Orange, Cited And Presented To Coolidge

Washington, August 15.—Today was the proudest in the life of Eugene L. Stack, the twenty-three-year-old clerk in the post-office at East Orange, N. J., who, on the morning of July 31, shot and killed a mail bandit on the platform of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad station, while the latter and a companion were attempting to rifle eight bags of mail which had just been deposited by a train.

Postmaster General New, in the presence of the four Assistant Postmasters General, Rush D. Simmons, Chief Inspector; Thomas L. Degnan, purchasing agent; Francis P. Sullivan, comptroller, and Horace J. Donnelly, acting solicitor, gave Stack a check for $2,000 as a reward from the Postoffice Department and the government for his bravery.

In making the presentation the Postmaster General turned to Stack and said he had called him to Washington so that the department and the government might confer suitable recognition on him for his act of loyalty to the service which he performed only a few weeks ago.

RECORD MADE PERMANENT

"You protected the United states mails at the peril of your own life," declared the Postmaster General. "Such acts merit recognition. It is the intention of the Postmaster General, in order that the record shall be made permanent, to have the following citation placed to your credit."

Then the Postmaster General read the citation as follows:

"I desire to make special acknowledgment of the conspicuous gallantry and loyalty to the postal service shown by Eugene L. Stack, a clerk at the postoffice at East Orange, N. J.

"The duty of receiving the mail due on the early morning trains at the East Orange railway station on the Lackawanna road and conveying it to the postoffice building had been assigned to Mr. Stack, and on the morning of July 31, 1924, Mr. Stack was at the depot in the regular discharge of his duties when he was attacked by two highwaymen, whose purpose it undoubtedly was to secure possession of the mails which had just been received by Stack from the westbound train due shortly before 4 o'clock a.m. The bandits opened fire on Mr. Stack, which he returned, all the time defending the mail in his possession, with the result that one of his assailants was killed by Stack's fire and the other put to rout, escaping by means of a taxicab, for the presence of which at the foot of the stairs leading to the station platform the bandits had undoubtedly made prearrangement.

STACK TWICE WOUNDED

"During the attack, Stack was twice wounded, one bullet from the pistol of one of the bandits striking him in the hand, another making a flesh wound in his thigh, and a third penetrating his clothing without touching his body.

"In appreciation of the splendid conduct of Mr. Stack on this occasion and of the loyalty to his duty, of which his conduct gives conspicuous evidence, the Postmaster General, acting under authority vested in him by the Congress, has made an award of $2,000 to Mr. Stack and directs that this special recognition of his highly meritorious conduct be placed in his service record."

In presenting the check the Postmaster General declared that while the money would no doubt prove useful, the citation would be worth more in the end, as it would turn out to be of greater value in the years to come.

"In the military service" said the Postmaster-General, "men are decorated for acts of conspicuous bravery. This is your decoration and you have earned it."

After the ceremony in the office of the Postmaster General, Stack was taken to the White House and presented to President Coolidge by Postmaster General New.

GOLDSTEIN WINS WORLD BANTAM CHAMPIONSHIP.

GOLDSTEIN DEFEATS LYNCH. ABE GOLDSTEIN.

By decisively defeating Joe Lynch in every round of their fifteen-round fight in Madison Square Garden, New York City, little Abe Goldstein won the world's bantamweight championship. It was the second time Lynch had lost the championship, winning it back the first time by knocking out Johnny Buff. In the action picture Lynch is shown hitting Goldstein on the chin with a left, while Abe drives in a right to the stomach.

National Institute Of Self-Government Holds Exercises

In spite of the fact that many Governmental schools in this part of China have to suspend their studies on account of military activities, the National Institute of Self-Government, 88 Avenue Road, Shanghai, had its inauguration exercise on Wednesday with some 20 members of the faculty and staff and one-third of the total student body present. The total student body numbers 230.

The exercise was held in the Institute at 2 p.m. and lasted for two hours. Dr. Chang Carsun, President of the Institute, presided. After saluting of the national five-colored flag by all in attendance, Mr. Pan Ting-siang, representing the civil governor at Nanking, gave an address, emphasising the principle that training in leadership for local government is fundamental to national unity and integrity. The Institute would be supported by the Government and the public.

Then followed speeches by two of the trustees of the Institute, Yuan Kwan-tang, head of the Kiangsu Educational Associations, and Shen En-fu, former vice-civil governor at Nanking and now chairman of the Municipal Council at Nantao. They all traced the cause of the present internal strife to lack of a developed provincial government. They concluded that the Institute will have to undertake the task.

President Chang introduced to the audience Mr. Chang Chung-ren, who was chiefly responsible for the draft and signature of the peace agreement between Kiangsu and Chekiang last year. Lamenting the failure to get the military leaders to refrain from fighting this time, Mr. Chang believed that the Institute could help to work out the means of salvation. He further insisted that if all the people would take part in and demonstrate for peace, peace could be acquired.

All classes commenced yesterday. Among the courses given are political science, political economy, private and public law, history, logic, philosophy, Chinese and English literature, etc.

Hoist Soviet Flag On Wrangel Island

(Reuter's Service)

Moscow, Sept. 18.—A Russian vessel hoisted the Soviet flag on Wrangel Island on August 20. There were one American and eleven Eskimos there. The vessel will return to Russia on Sept. 23.

The Stefansson Expedition hoisted the British flag on the Island on Sept. 21 last year.

Note: On Sept. 2 the Canadian Government advised the British Colonial Office (respecting the reported mission of an armed Soviet vessel "Red October" to Wrangel Island with a company of infantry to take the Island and seize the men left there last year by Mr. Harold Noice after his expedition to rescue the survivors of the Stefansson party) that the Canadian Government, which did not authorise the Stefansson adventure, were leaving any action to the British Government. It was believed in Ottawa then that the right to possess the Island would be finally adjudicated by the League of Nations.

Everybody Uses It

That's one great thing about Chamberlain's Cough Remedy; every user is a friend, and is glad to tell her neighbor all about it. It is certainly great for coughs and colds, for croup and any kind of cough that hits either the young or the elderly people. Sold and recommended everywhere.

Boy Is Accidently Wounded As Gun Of Police Is Discharged

A Chinese boy of 15 was shot and seriously wounded on the borders of Chapei Wednesday night when a rifle carried by a Chapei police constable was accidentally discharged. The boy, Hoo Tsau-ding, shop assistant employed in a foodshop at 176-7 North Thibet Road, was standing on the corner of Kaifeng Road and North Thibet Road, about thirty yards from the Settlement boundary, when shot. The police constable, Wong Ts-ding, attached to the Mongo Road Station, Chapei, was on patrol duty in Mongo Road and had stopped to put a cartridge in the breech of his rifle. In some manner which he could not explain, the rifle was discharged, and the bullet passed through both legs of the boy.

At Shantung Road Hospital, to which the boy was removed, it was found that he had suffered a bullet wound in the right thigh and a compound fracture of the left leg, necessitating amputation.

The Chapei police constable was turned over by a Chinese Sub-Inspector from Chapei to the Settlement authorities, and was formally charged in the Mixed Court yesterday before Mr. Bucknell, American Assessor, and Magistrate Li. Inspector McKenzie outlined the case and Chinese Sub-Inspector Ching Yong of the Chapei Police made application to have the accused handed over to the Chapei Police for trial, stating that if he was required again at the Mixed Court he would be brought back.

The Court ordered the man handed over on this understanding.

Hankow Banks Issue Currency Bonds To Tide Over Festival

(Independent News Service)

Hankow, Sept. 10.—The unprecedented stringency in local financial circles, due to the effects of the Shanghai war, has called forth a scheme to tide over the "money famine". The Chamber of Commerce, the Chinese Bankers Association and the Associated Guild of Native Banks have united to float war time currency bonds to the value of $5,000,000. These bonds will serve as credit notes to be used for the Mid-Autumn Festival, and are mutually guaranteed by the financial organisations sponsoring the plan. Much of the anticipated trouble will thus be averted.

proposed compromise between Dr. Sun and General Chen.

(Eastern News Agency)

Canton, September 17.—There is reason to believe that the alliance between the provinces in the Southwest will eventually be effected as a result of the agreement already reached between Dr. Sun and General Tang Chi-yao. The General Headquarters yesterday received a telegraphic message from General Tang Chi-yao, agreeing to his assumption of the post as commander-in-chief of the combined army of Yunnan, Szechuen, and Kueichow troops in addition to the post as Vice Generalissimo of the Canton Government. According to an announcement made today by the General Headquarters of the expeditionary forces against the North, the troops under the command of General Chu Pei-teh have already reached the border of Kiangsi Province by way of Lochang and Jenhua, while another army of the expeditionary troops has arrived at Nanhsiung.

Chinese Minister Leaves For Berlin

(Independent News Service)

Hankow, Sept. 10.—Mr. Wei Shanghai en route to Germany to Berlin and a native of Wuchang, left Hankow last Saturday for Shanghai en route to Germany to resume his duties as Minister in the German capital. Mr. Wei returned to China early this year, when he reported at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs in Peking. His sudden return was necessitated by the financial embarrassment of the Chinese Legation in Berlin where the staff and running expenses had not been met for several months.

Prior to his departure Mr. Wei had visited Peking and assurance of financial support of the Berlin Legation was given by the Peking Government. He was accorded a cordial farewell by Marshal Hsiao Yao-nan, as well as by the local Bureau of Foreign Affairs.

Student Party Is Given Fine Welcome On Arrival In U.S.

Cable advices received yesterday by the local offices of the Admiral-Oriental line report that an enthusiastic welcome was given to the party of 164 Chinese students who arrived at Seattle on the Admiral-Oriental Line steamer President Jefferson. The students left here on August 23 on their way to the United States to enter various schools and colleges.

Elaborate entertainments were tendered the party on their arrival in Seattle.

Latest Issue Of Blue Lantern Has Good Reading

Interesting reading and splendid illustrations fill the pages of the latest number of the Blue Lantern Magazine, which has just made its appearance on the news-stands.

The new number marks the appearance of the first instalment of a new serial story, "Above Suspicion," by Robert Orr Chipperfield, which should exceed in popularity among Blue Lantern readers even "Tiger," the serial story concluded last month.

Included in the travel section are an article on Mokanshan, another on Madrid, illustrated with photographs, and a third descriptive of sports on the Canadian Prairies.

More photographs by B. T. Prideaux, well reproduced, appear in the issue, and there are further instalments of the miniscenses of "Cherio" and story of the Prince of Wales.

Excellent as is this newest issue the publishers of the "Blue Lantern" assert that they will produce one better still next month, when a special big number will be published to mark the first anniversary of the founding of the magazine.

HAVE YOU A BABY IN YOUR HOUSE?

If So Let Baby's Own Tablets Help You To Keep Him Happy and Well

Childhood ailments come quickly and means should always be at hand to promptly fight them. Baby's Own Tablets are the ideal home remedy, for they are easily administered, the little ones like them, and they are guaranteed absolutely free from opiates, narcotics or other harmful drugs, so can be safely given to even the youngest and most delicate babe in arms.

The first effect of Baby's Own Tablets that is usually noted is a gentle movement of the bowels, due to their cleansing efficacy. When this happens it is the best possible proof that the Tablets were needed and are doing their work. But this is not all their work—far from it. The next thing is that they sweeten the breath, cool the feverishnes, if any, stop the snuffling and wheezing if the child had caught cold, relieve the pain and griping if it has indigeston, colic or summer complaint, allay the pains accompanying the cutting of teeth, expel worms, prevent croup, and in a natural way quickly promote health-giving sleep.

Of chemists or post free, 60 cents the vial from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Kiangse Road, Shanghai.

U. S. BUSINESS TO BE WELL HOUSED IN WASHINGTON

National Chamber To Have New Building In The Nation's Capital

New York, August 20.—The new $2,500,000 home of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, toward which business men in all parts of the country have contributed, is about complete and will be thrown open October 1.

Standing on the site of the Washington home of Daniel Webster, the imposing structure faces south on Lafayette Square toward the White House. It is built of Indiana limestone and is a duplication, in the main, of the Treasury annex facing the opposite corner of the square. It was designed by the same architect, Cass Gilbert, of New York.

POLITICAL ASSOCIATIONS

Where in days of yore stood Webster's home, with its rich political and social association and its rambling garden, a fountain will play in the courtyard in the center of the building. The historical aspect will be preserved in Daniel Webster's desk, which will be used in the office of the president of the chamber.

The classic Greek architectural design that will house the National Chamber of Commerce had its inception just after the World War. Business men of the country have been planning for it ever since. The cornerstone was laid by Secretary Hoover in May, 1922, and actual building operations commenced in January, 1923.

Rows of fluted Corinthian pillars, resting on a base which forms the first story, surmounted by a cornice with a simple balustrade above, is a feature of the architecture. Four stories enter into its present plan, but the building is so arranged that one or two stories may be added without marring its design, if pressure for space warrants it.

MAGAZINE OFFICE HOUSED

The first floor will be devoted to conference rooms. The various departments of the national chamber will be housed in the three stories above. The offices of "The Nation's Business," a national business magazine will be located in the building. The system of having several large offices rather than a numbef of smaller ones will be followed.

The building has a frontage of 158 feet and a depth of 149 feet. The main structure extends around three sides of the sightlly irregular square. At the rear, between the ends of two wings yet forming an integral part of the building, is the main hall or auditorium, with seats for 1,000 persons. Balconied windows look down on the closed court, with its playing fountain.

The facilities of the organisation of the national chamber will be available to commercial organisations and trade associations that will have make the new building their rendezvous. "Ten thousand business men, firms and organisations have aided in making this "workshop of American business" possible.

Coal Market

Messrs. Wheelock & Co. state in their current report:

Japan Coal:—As was only to be expected—the fighting, which has been going on round Shanghai for the past two weeks, has upset our local coal market pretty considerably and it is only natural that native dealers should refrain entirely from any new business deals. If hostilities are prolonged, there is no doubt that deliveries will be affected very adversely.

Fushun Coal:—No change.

Fuchung Anthracite:—No change.

Kaiping Coal:—The trade is at present confined to supplying the local demand and Yangtsze ports, all shipments up country being quite impracticable. On the other hand, supplies which would have come to Shanghai have been diverted to southern markets, Hongkong and Manila, with the result that stocks in Shanghai are not larger than usual for the time of year.

Hongkong Stocks

Messrs. Moxon & Taylor's weekly share report dated Hongkong, September 12, states:

We have had a firm market during the week under review with a large business passing in most Industrials at rising prices generally. Investment stocks also continue in good demand.

The Shanghai market is quiet with little doing.

The following are the principal alterations since last week:

Hongkong Banks:—Continue in strong demand and have come to business at $1,210 to $1,215.

Unions:—Close firm with buyers ta $237 and a little more would probably be paid.

Hotels.—Have again been more or less neglected and very little business has been done during the week.

Hongkong Lands:—Are firm and wanted at quotations.

Humphreys.—Are slightly easier with sellers at $24.

Cements:—After declining to $20½ cah and $22½ for December, suddenly rose to $25½ for December, but at the close are weaker with sellers at $23½.

Kowloon Wharves:—Have firmed up during the latter part of the week and are wanted at $214 for Settlement and $218 for November.

Hongkong Docks:—After firming up $180 buyers, close rather easier at $178.

Shanghai Docks:—Have come to business at Tls. 92½.

Hongkong Ropes:—Have been the medium of a fair business and a good many shares have changed hands at $63 Combined.

Hongkong Electrics:—Are firm and are wanted at $43½.

Hongkong Trams:—Have firmed up to a buying rate of $44¼ and $44¾ would be paid for Settlement.

Peak Trams: Continue in good demand with few shares offering.

China Sugars:—Are firm with buyers at $410 cash.

China Providents:—Continue in good demand and buyers prevail at $17 for Old and $5½ for New shares.

China Lights:—Have also been the medium of a considerable business at rising prices with buyers at $27 cash.

Dairy Farms:—Have also firmed up and are in more demand at $28 cash and $28¾ for November at $27 cash.

Dairy Farms:—Have also firmed up and are in more demand at $28 cash and $28¾ for November.

Lane Crawfords:—Are wanted at $18¼.

Steamboats:—Have eased off during the week but at the close are steadier with buyers at $46½ to $47 cash.

London Quotations of the 11th inst:—Hongkong Banks £135—10/—, Indos Deferred £13.—, Shells £3.18.1½. All middle prices.

Exchange:—The demand selling rate on London is 2/4⅛ and the T. T. on Shanghai is Tls. 70.

SAILORS LOSE THEIR WAY IN SEEING SIGHTS

Aliens In New York, Not Able To Speak English, Often Miss Ships

New York, August 18.—Seamen while in port have various ways of amusing themselves. Some spend their leisure in visiting friends; others take in the sights of the city, and many are content to while away idle hours in the reading and recreation rooms of institutions interested in the welfare of the sailor.

When a seamen signs up for a voyage it includes a trip to and from a foreign port. On the return trip, he is paid off and discharged. He then is "on the beach," which means out of a job, until he can sign up for another voyage. While he is waiting for a vessel to make her return trip, he is "standing by," that is, still drawing pay.

SOME ARE SMART

Some seamen are easily a match for the bunco steerers and card sharpers who infest every port; others are much like children. Not only are they robbled by crooks, but they often lose their way about the city and become penniless until a Samaritan takes them in tow. The number of those lost to the ships in the course of a year is considerable, especially among foreign seamen. A lost child is sure to strike a sympathetic chord among passersby, but it is different with seamen. Being unable to speak English, he receives scant attention when he accosts a pedestrian after being taken for drunk or crazy. When he at last finds some one who can make out his story he has missed his ship, and a long time may elapse before he can find another on which to embark.

A Hindoo sailor who could not speak English found himself in such a plight. He was visiting the city for the first time. In company with other seamen of his race, one of whom understood English, he started out to see sights. He was separated from his companions in a crowd, and become as completely lost as if he were in a dense forest. For three days and nights he wandered aimlessly about, trying to find his mates. He appealed to scores of people, hoping that some one could understand him. Most of the people he approached shook their heads and went on their way; others, after listening a moment, motioned toward a policeman.

WANDERS THREE DAYS

On the third day of his wanderings he found himself in West Twenty-third Street near river, where he was recognised as a Hindoo seaman. By that time he was weak from hunger. He was taken to a seamen's lodging house, where he told his story to an interpreter, who got in touch with the British Consul General's office. When the Hindoo recovered his strength he was placed on a British ship.

On another occasion a young man walked into the rooms of the New York Port Society and asked permission to have his mail sent there. He had shipped as dishwasher on one of the big steamships and was greatly discouraged.

He told of having served four years in the British Navy as a Lieutenant, and two years as an officer in a Black and Tan regiment in Ireland. On being discharged he had entered a brokerage business in London. When a business slump came along he lost his money and then walked the streets of London until his clothes wore out. Finally he shipped for New York as a dishwasher. A situation was obtained for him in a hotel here. Later, he went to Canada, engaged in trapping for a while and then obtained a good position in large copper mine in the Hudson Bay region.

The New York Port Society, at the foot of West Twenty-third Street, has looked after the welfare of men from the big ships for many years. Hundreds of seamen each week visit the society's rooms, where magazines, writing material and entertainment are provided for them. The society receives many letters from anxious relatives of seamen. The writers importune the society to try to locate the wanderers. The society has been singularly successful in locating missing seamen for relatives.

Freight Market

Messrs. Wheelock & Co. state in their current report:

The export trade to Europe and America continues as dull as ever and with the exception of tea there is nothing moving worth speaking about. The war which has broken out since our last issue between the provinces of Kiangsu and Chekiang is not likely to improve matters.

Coastwise:—Outside of the regular liner business there is practically nothing doing in the coasting trade, and whilst the fighting continues in the neighboring provinces there is no prospect of any improvement taking place in the already depressed state of the markets.

"Eat Less Meat"!

"EAT LESS MEAT"

Preserve Your Health and Annoy the Profiteer: Butchers Pushing up Prices

War's extremity is the butcher's opportunity. Such seems the view of Shanghai meat dealers, for they have seized their chance to boost their prices 40 percent., as announced elsewhere. That this is a matter of profit-making is shown by a study of the market price list showing the rates prevailing in the Hongkew Market. From this illuminating document giving the difference in prices of September 2 and 9 we deduce that the ultimate consumer is likely to be squeezed again. The greatest advance in price there noted is in beef, an advance of 25 per cent. in the less expensive cuts, while the best cuts have advanced only 18 percent. That is, beef quoted on September 2 at from 16 to 30 cents a pound has advanced to 20 and 35.

Mutton, which was only 18 to 30 is now 25-35 while pork has not advanced at all and veal but slightly. No justification is shown for the advance of 40 per cent. advertised. Fish has not advanced in any instance and indeed cod is cheaper than before. Ducks, fowls, geese, pigeons, quail, snipe and turkey are just the same price, while eggs have risen 25 per cent. for "just eggs" and 18 per cent. for the number one quality. With regard to vegetables and fruit the price is only slightly higher though the price of potatoes has risen from $2.00-2.20 to $2.20-$2.60. A detailed list follows:—

Butcher's Meat	Usual Price	War Price
Beef per lb.	0.16—0.30	0.20—0.35
Mutton „	0.18—0.30	0.20—0.35
Pork „	0.30—0.40
Veal „	0.24—0.36	0.30—0.40
GAME, POULTRY AND EGGS.
Ducks each	0.70—1.00
Eggs per doz.	0.20—0.25	0.25—0.30
Fowls per. lb.	0.25—0.30
Geese each	1.00—1.20
Pigeons „	0.20—0.25
Quail „	0.30—0.35
Snipe „	0.16—0.18
Turkey per lb.	0.50—0.55

The moral which these statistics point is that preached by all the hoardings during the War: "Eat Less Meat." It is admitted that we all eat too much meat for our health. What better time than the present to cut down the meat ration and reprove the profiteer at the same time? The housewives of Shanghai have it in their power to stop this hold-up at once and benefit their families by doing so.

Old China hands will remember previous occasions when floods and famine have been made scapegoats for patent squeeze, inasmuch as the articles sold at advanced prices did not come from districts affected in any respect. War will doubtless bring inconveniences even to the protected foreign community, but it need not be an excuse for profiteering.

Why Not A "Dawes" Financial Plan For China?

THREE important European countries have now accepted a plan for financial reorganisation and supervision recommended by outsiders, otherwise foreigners. Both Austria and Hungary are now operating their finances in accordance with a plan recommended by the League of Nations. In Austria a prominent Dutch banker, Dr. Zimmerman, is functioning as Financial Commissioner and in Hungary an American attorney and banker, Mr. Jeremiah Smith of Boston, has been appointed as Financial Supervisor of that country's finances. Although the details have not yet been worked out for Germany as agreed upon at the London Conference, foreigners will have the last say, and Germany has concurred in the arrangement.

As was shown recently in these columns, China's finances were in a hopeless condition when this latest civil war started. With $800,000,000 of defaulted debts and an annual Government budget of $130,000,000 and with only $7,000,000 of revenues available to meet the the bills, the seriousness of the situation is apparent to everyone, Chinese and foreigners alike.

It is already rumored that the contending factions are planning the issuance of war notes and the forcing of shop-keepers to accept them in lieu of currency. The decision of General Chang Tso-lin to enter the struggle has already disrupted the currency in Manchuria, and if the war lasts for a considerable period, it is bound to play havoc not only with the currency but with the financial situation generally. There is no questioning the stability of the older and well-established Chinese banks, but many of the newer banks doubtless are already feeling the strain.

All of this points to the importance of close attention being paid to the Chinese financial situation not only by the Chinese leaders but also by the Powers who have extensive trade and financial interests in this country. No one wants to see China's financial organs go down in a grand smash similar to what happened in Russia and in Germany, and the way to prevent it is for foreigners and Chinese to co-operate on a plan for the financial salvation of the country immediately after this present war is finished.

Just what that plan might be no one can say at present, but the world has learned a lot and has had much experience on the subject of international finance since the close of the European War. The presence of Dr. W. W. Yen in the Premiership in Peking is fortunate for the reason that for several months he has been making a study of the financial situation and doubtless has a plan in readiness for presentation when the time comes for action. From the standpoint of the Powers, it is also highly necessary that they stand ready to help when the time comes and that they have properly qualified men out here capable of dealing with the complicated situation which will come with the end of the fighting. Certainly we do not desire another experience of the bungling which took place after the close of the Washington Conference, when an opportunity was presented for doing something constructive in the financial regeneration of the Chinese Republic.

Chinese finance will be at absolute zero when this war is finished, and then will be the time for the foreigners to stand in readiness—not to take advantage of China's weakness and misfortunes—but to help in the reconstruction of a newer and greater China that should emerge from this struggle.

Motor Headlights

THE correspondence between the Automobile Club of China and the Shanghai Municipal Council relative to the abuses growing out of the unrestricted use of head-lights shows two entirely different opinions, on a subject about which there should be only one. Practical motorists, especially those who have occasionally suffered from the habit of inconsiderate drivers who will not dim their light when approaching, naturally feel that something ought to be done about the matter, while the Council, in the absence of a sufficient number of complaints, are, apparently, not inclined to regard the matter as at all serious. The contention of the Council appears to be that owing to the interference with illumination by trees along the roadsides, the use of the headlight is not only to be excused, but is at times actually necessary. But it is seriously to be doubted whether this is really the case on any of the municipal roads. The thoroughfares are sufficiently wide, their lighting is not at all bad, and whatever obstructions a motorist is likely to encounter at night, with the exception of the pedestrian, is generally marked by adequate lighted signals. And the pedestrians on the streets least well lighted are infrequent enough not to constitute any real danger to themselves, while the thoroughfares are well enough lighted, and the motorist obtains enough illumination from the ordinary lights he carries to enable him to avoid trouble in this respect.

Actually, headlights were not designed for town work. They were primarily meant for fast driving along country roads, where there is generally no lighting and where danger spots are not so carefully marked as they are within town limits. In such circumstances, it is conceivable that a light which is effective for a considerable distance, and will light up not only the road ahead but both sides as well, is of paramount necessity. But it is difficult to believe that in any of the streets in Shanghai, lighted by either of the muncipalities such a high degree of illumination is necessary, and as a matter of fact most motorists will agree that the roads on which such is necessary can be numbered on the fingers of both hands. It is to be fancied, however, that the burden of the complaints which have been addressed to the Automobile Club deal rather with the bad manners of some motorists than the actual use of headlights. For while most drivers will dim down when approaching another car, there are a few who will not do this. They apparently seem to accept the theory advanced two or three years ago in the United States and in England that less danger comes from keeping the lights full on than from suddenly turning them off. There is something to be said for this, though it is a common experience that once glaring headlights have been encountered sufficiently closely to bother the driver, neither practice accords relief sufficiently quickly to obviate any danger that might be immediately ahead.

We are inclined to the belief that, under certain weather conditions, the use of the headlight in town is imperative, such as in cases of fog, and particularly in wet weather, when the roads do not reflect light so plentifully as they do when they are dry. In this connection, we agree with the Council that full powered headlights may be necessary. But we are also of the opinion that these same lights can be so adjusted as to permit of their free use without any of the danger to which the Autombile Club refers. Obviously the work of the headlight is only to illuminate the road ahead, and it would seem that if something could be done to prevent glare, anywhere except where it is wanted much of the ground for complaint would be removed. Frosting the upper half of the lens of the headlight is better than nothing and certainly saves a great deal of discomfort to oncoming drivers, and possibly, if the Automobile Club could do something along these lines, they would eventually achieve precisely the same end as that for which they are now agitating.

HOW TO READ THE BIBLE

I have no particular creed I want you to swallow, and no particular church I want you to join. I have no intention to convert you, and don't even aim to "do you good."

Still, a friendly hint on how to read the Bible may interest you.

You may read the Bible from moral motives, or merely as literature. In the one case you may find it a very puzzling book, and in the other very antique, unless you remember one thing.

The one thing is that the Bible is an Oriental book.

Unless you keep that in mind you are pretty sure to miss its meaning. Some of the most absurd vagaries have arisen by forgetting it, and by treating the Bible as a Western book.

The Oriental mind differs from ours chiefly in this, that it is essentially poetic. Eastern peoples have always thought, spoken, and written poetry. They cannot write prose when they try.

Poetry does not speak plainly. It hints, symbolises; touches facts not with a rough, firm grasp, but evasively; loves riddles, dark sayings, and apparent contradictions.

It functions in parables and paradoxes.

The western mind is prosaic. It plods, builds, reasons.

To get to the top of the mountain, the Occidental cuts logical steps in the rocks; the Oriental flies.

In moral subjects and religions, the Eastern mind is the more skilful, as such matters are better divined than argued.

Forget not, therefore, that there is hardly a line of your Bible that is not poetry. The nearest approach to prose is in Paul's writings; yet they also abound in highly poetical passages.

No one had this poetical turn more than the chief figure of the Bible, Jesus.

His parables are pure poetry. His maxims are full of paradox.

It is very unfortunate that our Western bent for logic and bald facts led us to use the glowing images of the great Master's poetry as bricks and squared stones wherewith to build up our "systems of truth."

For it is doubtful that truth is a system at all; it is more likely a vision.

Take one illustration: Jesus would teach His disciples the value of humility. Instead of analyzing this virtue, explaining and dissecting it, as a modern professor might do, He removes His coat, girds himself with a towel, and washes His pupils feet, saying when finished:

"If I, your Master, wash your feet, so ought ye to wash one another's feet."

The advantage of this method of teaching is that it is striking, easily remembered, visual, and interesting.

Common sense prevented His disciples from taking Him literally. They were forced to seek the idea, the sentiment behind it.

Literalism is not truth. It is the foe of truth. "The letter killeth."

You cannot literally obey a poet; you should spiritually obey him; that is, try to appreciate him, to get his point of view, his atmosphere and feeling.

Logic chopping is fatal to all poetry.

AGAINST SELFISHNESS

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS:

Dear Sir.—In your today's correspondence column I have read with astonishment about Mr. Francis Zia's opinion. I am astonished to find that how well prepared Mr. Zia is that his opinion can represent the whole people. He really boosted too much. In fact, he didn't or couldn't read Chang Tso-lin's proclamation (the validity of such a proclamation still remains to be confirmed). Chang wrote to Tsao Kun about the misconducts of Wu Pei-fu and his aim of fighting is quite clear—to revenge his former defeat at Changsingtien.

Now the Kiangsu-Chekiang conflict is no more than a selfish quarrel to get more dominion. If Lu Yung-hsiang and Tuan Chi-jui (it is doubtful whether Tuan did send his circular telegram personally or not) should overthrow the bad Government, as Mr. Zia put, they should have done so before or at the time of Tsao Kun taking his Presidency.

To be sure, Shanghai is now saturated in the air of Chekiang militarists. Just read the Shanghai newspapers, and any man of thinking will convince my saying. The great trouble with the Chinese is their selfishness. Once selfishness is conquered, no more civil strife will happen. There is no militarist that is really patriotic, and the harm the militarists have done is brought about by the "public opinion," which is really the opinion of a small group of selfish people.

Thanking you for the space, I am,

AN ANTI-SELFISHNESS CHINESE.

CHINA'S BEST YOUNG MEN

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS:

Dear Sir: I have read your editorial published in your paper "China's Best Young Men and the Present War Situation", wherein you have criticised the "best young men" of China, referring especially to college students and graduates for not taking part in the present war.

Only a few days before in one of your editorials you have depicted the present war as a "skirmish between super-bandits". Would you expect the best young men of China to join these "bandits" and to take part in aggravating the sufferings of the people? Even disregarding this extreme view, the present war, no matter what both parties proclaim as their justified cause, to the majority of the Chinese people, is but an unnecessary fight between two camps of military cliques for spoils, although one side may be more at fault for their aggressive action. There are no sacred principles at stake nor any national defence is called for. Why should the best young men of China risk their lives for such a war?

There may be certain justifications for your "student interpreter" to refuse to accompany your correspondent to the front at Liuho. It is not my purpose to defend him. But even admitting he is one of the coward type, it has no bearing on the best young men of China as a class. There is always some cowardice among every race. The writer was in the United States during the World War and knew many a best young man of America, who tried every means to keep out of the war. On the other hand, the First Revolution against the Manchus of 1911 was chiefly fought out by the best young men of China and many thousands of them have been willing martyrs of the sacred cause. The writer was in the front throughout the Revolution and had as his comrades mostly college students and graduates. They may appear to be somewhat timid at ordinary times, but, when it comes to a big issue, I am certain that many of them will be too glad to rush to the colors.

Your editorial would be much more meet if you had criticised the best young men of China for not doing something to stop the war or to make such a war impossible. However, the writer has heard enough foreign critics deploring the Chinese people, especially the merchants, for not doing something to clear the country from military curse. I have oftentimes been wondering how much better can the foreigners do if they were put in the same helpless and defenseless situation as we Chinese people are now placed. There have been always oppressed races everywhere and who, before the final opportunity of liberation arrives, have suffered quietly. Who can tell that there may not be one day in a not distant future that the present curse of militarism may be done with forever by the work of the best young men? Historians, not contemporary critics, only can be the supreme judges of things of this nature.

I shall thank you to give a space for this letter in your valued paper.

ARRESTS WITHOUT WARRANT

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS:

Dear Sir:—The action recently taken by the Shanghai Municipal Authorities in effecting arrests within the limits of the Settlement of persons whom they or the police officers charged with the work may consider to be bad characters may be admitted as a measure of emergency. It is, however, difficult to find any provision in the Land Regulations of the Shanghai Municipal Council which would confer on the Council the power to take such an action, but the outbreak of hostilities between Chekiang and Kiangsu has taken place so near the Settlement that any reasonable measure calculated to contribute to the maintenance of the good order of the Settlement should not be adversely criticised. The apprehension without warrant by the competent authorities must, therefore, be treated with a certain amount of extenuation, and any inconvenience to which the residents may be subjected by the police officers in examining their persons is counter-balanced by the better security afforded to life and property inside the International Settlement by the vigilance on the part of the Municipal Authorities in their search for bad characters. The advantage of these arrests is, however, extinguished by the fact that police officers are entrusted with the difficult duty of sitting as judges to decide who are bad characters and who are not. It is more than possible that in carrying out these judicial duties, which they have never been expected to perform, the most serious mistakes are made and innocent persons may be taken as undesirables. In any event, the responsibility so taken by the Council in arresting and passing sentences, as it were, on persons who are regarded as suspicious is too grave altogether. What has happened, as far as my knowledge goes, is: a supposedly suspicious character is arrested and taken to the nearest police station, where his finger print is taken and if he is found to be an exconvict he is removed from the Settlement, regardless of the original sentence against him. In some cases, the so-called bad characters are arrested and handed over to the Chinese Authorities, who are only too eager to accept custody of them, so that recruits may be procured for carrying on the murderous warfare now raging practically at the threshold of the Settlement. The Municipal Authorities in adopting this measure, have gone too far and have apparently overlooked the fact that under the Provisional Criminal Code no citizen of China is to be subjected to any punishment except in case of the violation of some offence thereunder.

Assuming that all such persons are, in the opinion of the Municipal Authorities, bad characters, what offence or offences have they committed under the Provisional Criminal Code to warrant their arrest and rendition to the Chinese Authorities? The Municipal Council will argue that in these abnormal times and in these exceptional circumstances, they are justified in taking such defensive measures as they consider necessary for the protection of the peace of the Settlement. I am quite prepared to acquiesce in this contention, but my strong objection is that they cannot play the dual role of a persecutor and a judge, as the legal maxim rightly says: nemo potest esse simul actor et judex. There is the International Mixed Court with six magistrates available to adjudicate on cases of this character, but why the Municipal Authorities have not taken the so-called suspects before that Court (always assuming that they are Chinese) for the purpose of obtaining a conviction against them is utterly inexplicable.

In the interests of public justice and with a view to upholding the treaties between foreign Powers and China, under which Chinese citizens are only subject to the jurisdiction of Chinese Courts, I cannot too strongly emphasise the desirability of taking all those persons who may be considered by the Municipal Authorities as bad characters before the International Mixed Court to be dealt with, and certainly not to expel them from the Settlement in the way in which they have done.

DRESS

By Mary Marshall

Leather Becomes as Important to the Milliner as to the Shoe Maker

The case of the old man in the Mother Goose Book who went out on a misty morning entirely clothed in leather would not seem so remarkable as it did in the days when children first lisped those nursery rhymes. Old men may not go out entirely dressed in leather, but fashionable women are becoming more and more partial to leather apparel.

Quite the latest development in the fad for leather is the leather earring. They are of suede and are sold to match suede hats for sport wear. Sometimes they are trimmed with gilt or pearl beads.

There is all sorts of leather trimming for hats now, and not only are there flowers of leather, but we now have leather feathers. Leather gardenias, while by no means new, are still admired in France, and the use of red and while camellias or gardenias together is much admired. The sketch shows a little white felt cloche with upturned brim at front faced with leather, with white gardenias at the sides and one red gardenia directly at the back.

White felt trimmed with white leather guardenias and on red one at back.

Milliners now seem to seek variety in leather, and all sorts of leather-bearing creatures have been sought out for the embellishment of hats. Alligator leather is used both in natural brown and dyed to brilliant hues. There are all sorts of snake skins, and the newest thing in the way of leather millinery trimming are ornaments cut from gold and silver skins.

Sometimes it takes close inspection for one to know that trimmings of gilt and silver leather really are leather. A favorite trick is to cut the metallic leather into very narrow strips and then to use it as banding about the crown of a small hat. Cut in ribbon widths gold leather is used in almost every way that ribbon is used on new hats. Very smart are the bows made from white kid lined with bright-colored ribbon.

The best salesman commands the highest price.

THE biggest men in the world to-day are sellers. You may not know them as such. They may call themselves bankers, engineers, lawyers, doctors or ministers. In reality they are selling something; may be their own or another's services. As they succeed so are they paid. The best salesman commands the highest price.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

THE WAY WITH NEW UMBRELLAS

The plain black umbrella is far less popular with women than it used to be. Not only are colored umbrellas increasingly popular, but plaid umbrellas and umbrellas made from jacquard silks are increasingly popular. Navy blue pin-check silk makes a smart new umbrella. Green umbrellas are said to be far less popular than dark blue or purple. An amber umbrella handle shows elaborate decoration of inlaid silver, and one of green crystal shows a flower design outlined in gold.

The stubby umbrella is still in far greater favor than the slender umbrella, and the short ferrule seems to be the rule in smart umbrellas. Almost all umbrellas are made with some sort of bracelet or wrist strap. A carved wooden handle shows a bracelet of red pleated leather, a silver inlaid shows a silver chain, while the strap is often a silk cord and tassel.

TODAY'S GOOD RECIPES

Fish Chowder

Three pounds of fresh fish, two or three slices salt pork, six medium-sized potatoes, small onion, two quarts milk, two teespoons salt, one-half teaspoon of pepper. Cut salt pork in dice pieces; fry crisp, and turn the whole into chowder kettle. Pare potatoes and cut into pieces. Peel onion and chop fine. Put potatoes into kettle with part of onion. Cut fish into convenient pieces, and lay over potatoes; sprinkle over with rest of onions; add salt and pepper; add just enough water to come to top of fish; cover closely and cook until potatoes are done; and milk and let it scald up again.

Salmon Chowder

Scald contents of a can of salmon and pick over with a silver fork, removing skin and bones. Pare three potatoes and slice thin. Fry two slices of an onion in three tablespoons of butter until soft, and then add three tablespoons of flour and mix well. Add two cups of boiling water and the potatoes, and cook about fifteen minutes or until tender. Add salt and pepper to taste, and then the salmon, with three cups of scalded milk. Boil up once and serve with soda crackers.

The Teacher Of Humility To Kings

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS.

In our day the kings—the few that are left—have learned to be humble, at least in appearance, but it was not so in the days of Louis XIV. However, a man whose statue I always go to look at when I am in Dijon, the ancient capital of the proud dukes of Burgundy, dared to teach even the "roi soleil," the "sun king," who ruled France "by divine right" for seventy-five long years, that he was no nearer akin to God than other people were.

This man was Bossuet, the famous preacher, than whom, perhaps, the world never saw a greater master of the spoken word. As fast as kings, queens, princes, and great rulers of France died, Bossuet preached their funeral sermons, and told the truth about them to their families who of course, knew much of it already.

Bossuet was so solemn in his manner, so majestic in his language, and so magnificent in the excursions of his imagination, that they all bowed to his words as to a voice speaking from heaven. In the white marble statue that they have recently set up in Dijon, to honor this great son of their city, the sculptor has finely reproduced the aspect of the matchless orator when monarch and court sat spell-bound at his feet, while he seemed to speak to God and for God, the one, only Ruler.

Bossuet himself accepted the doctrine of the divine right of kings, though he never wished them to deem themselves anything more than mere mortal instruments. And it may be that his wonderful sermons, leaking out to the ears of the common people, did more than historians have ever noted to plant the seeds of democracy. Thus men of wide powers continually do good that they have not intended and not dreamed of.

Bossuet taught his king to be humble before God; but it would have surpassed the reach of his imagination to conceive of a king humble before his people. His idea was the idea of his time, viz. that the people are not to rule but to be ruled.

But Bossuet's message was not alone to kings and rulers. I am not much of a reader of sermons, but I have read some of Bossuet's sermons again and again. The magnificence of some of their thoughts is indescribable. They inspire religion not by threats of hell, but by awakening a desire for immortality, an ambition to live on and on, progressing higher and higher, and conquering time and death, which appertain only to things that pass and end. Bossuet's description in his sermon on the death of Michel Le Tellier, of the essential worthlessness of everything that comes to an end seems to me as sublime as anything that was ever put into speech. It is too fine for translation. Whoever attentively reads it must either believe in human immortality, or else in the utter futility of our existence.

What changes Bossuet would have made in some of his writings if he had had the advantage of modern scientific education I do not presume to say; but I am sure that the essential character and power of his teaching would not have been altered. That which is temporal he could always allow for; but he stood fast by the eternal.

A Voice from the Dawn of the World—

"—the aeons of forgotten Time. When man was not!"

BEFORE man came, Time was. Not Time as we reckon it today; no mere minutes, but ages, aeons. A century flung into that dim abyss was as a raindrop swallowed up by the sea.

Against that vague, shadowy dawn of the world loomed huge, fearsome monsters—dinosaur, pterodactyl, mastodon—

It is a far, faint cry from the mists of the remote and unremembered past to the high-tension, split-second present.

Yet even there, in those strange, awesome animal bulks, was stirring the irresistible force of evolution—that eager upward urge of which was to emerge at last as man!

And the tireless flight of Father Time which spanned those colossal ages, is the same that measures our work and our lives today.

If your brief span in Time is not measured accurately send your timepiece to our
